✓ Apart from the most expensive Platine Grandstand, all grandstands are uncovered. Keep an eye on the weather forecast throughout the weekend.

✓ All grandstands (except for #46 and #47) have a large TV screen in front so you can follow action elsewhere on the track,

✓ The grandstands at Circuit Gilles Villeneuve are temporary structures. This means they have hard aluminum boards for seats, so bring a cushion. The only exception is the expensive Grandstand 1 seats opposite pit lane. These seats also provide back support.

GRANDSTANDS

GRANDSTAND 1

Grandstand 1 is located at the start-finish line, opposite to the pitlane. Therefore, it is ideal for first time visitors. It is also perfect if you want to witness pit action, race build up and podium celebrations. Due to its great location, it is one of the more expensive grandstands on the circuit.

GRANDSTAND 16

Grandstand 16 is also located on the straight next to Grandstand 1. It offers a good view of the last turn, known as 'the wall of champions,' it also provides a clear view of the pit lane, just like Grandstand 1.

PLATINE GRANDSTAND

The Platine Grandstand is located at turn 1 at the end of the main straight. You will be able to follow the race start when the cars storm into the first corner giving you enough race action to enjoy. You will be able to watch the cars on the main straight and also get to get glimpses of them in the first two corners. The great views make this grandstand popular.

SENNA CURVE (GRANDSTANDS 11 AND 12)

Situated at the Senna Curve, these grandstands offer some of the best views of the Circuit. With plenty of on-track action, especially early in the race, these stands give a thrilling experience. Opt for a section close to the other grandstand for the best views.

GRANDSTAND 32

This Grandstand is located at turn 6. You will be able to see the cars pass through this section quite slowly and almost every year something happens here! In 2023, Albon and Sainz crashed into each other at this corner, and Perez also had a crash here. In short, Enough to see!

GRANDSTAND 33

Grandstand 33 is also known as the Family Grandstand. It is located in between turn 6 and 7. While not being on the prime spot on the circuit, these grandstands offer significant benefits. Especially if you have children under 15 and seniors (65+) in your group.

GRANDSTAND 31

A popular choice! This grandstand at turns 8 and 9 provides exciting action throughout the weekend. In 2023, it was the location of an incident involving George Russell, adding to the drama. You'll also have a great view of cars approaching from turn 7.

GRANDSTANDS AROUND THE HAIRPIN (21, 15, 24 & 34)

These Grandstands are located around the hairpin of the circuit (turn 10). Grandstand 24 is also known as the Lance Stroll Grandstand, named after the Canadian driver currently on the grid. This Grandstand, along with Grandstand 15, would be the best of the bunch around the hairpin. However, Grandstand 15 and 34 are still good options as well.

GRANDSTAND 46 & 47

If you're looking for Grandstands which are a little more budget friendly, then Grandstands 46 & 47 might be an option for you. They are located in between corner 11 and 12 after the haripin and just before the second DRS activation zone. Keep in mind though, that these grandstands do not offer views of tv screens. However, because they are only slightly more expensive than general admission, they are still a good option.

GENERAL ADMISSION

General Admission tickets are a cost-effective choice, but you won't have the best view. The grandstands occupy the best vantage points of this circuit. So with a general admission ticket, you will find yourself squeezed between stands. Or you will be watching cars speed along the many straights of the circuit.

Some reasonable viewing points near certain stands exist. For example the elevated sides of Grandstand 24 or the areas between and in front of stands 11 and 12. However, arriving early is crucial to securing a good spot. While the straight stretch behind stand 31 provides shade, it lacks a view of a large screen.
