Miami International Autodrome

Circuit Information

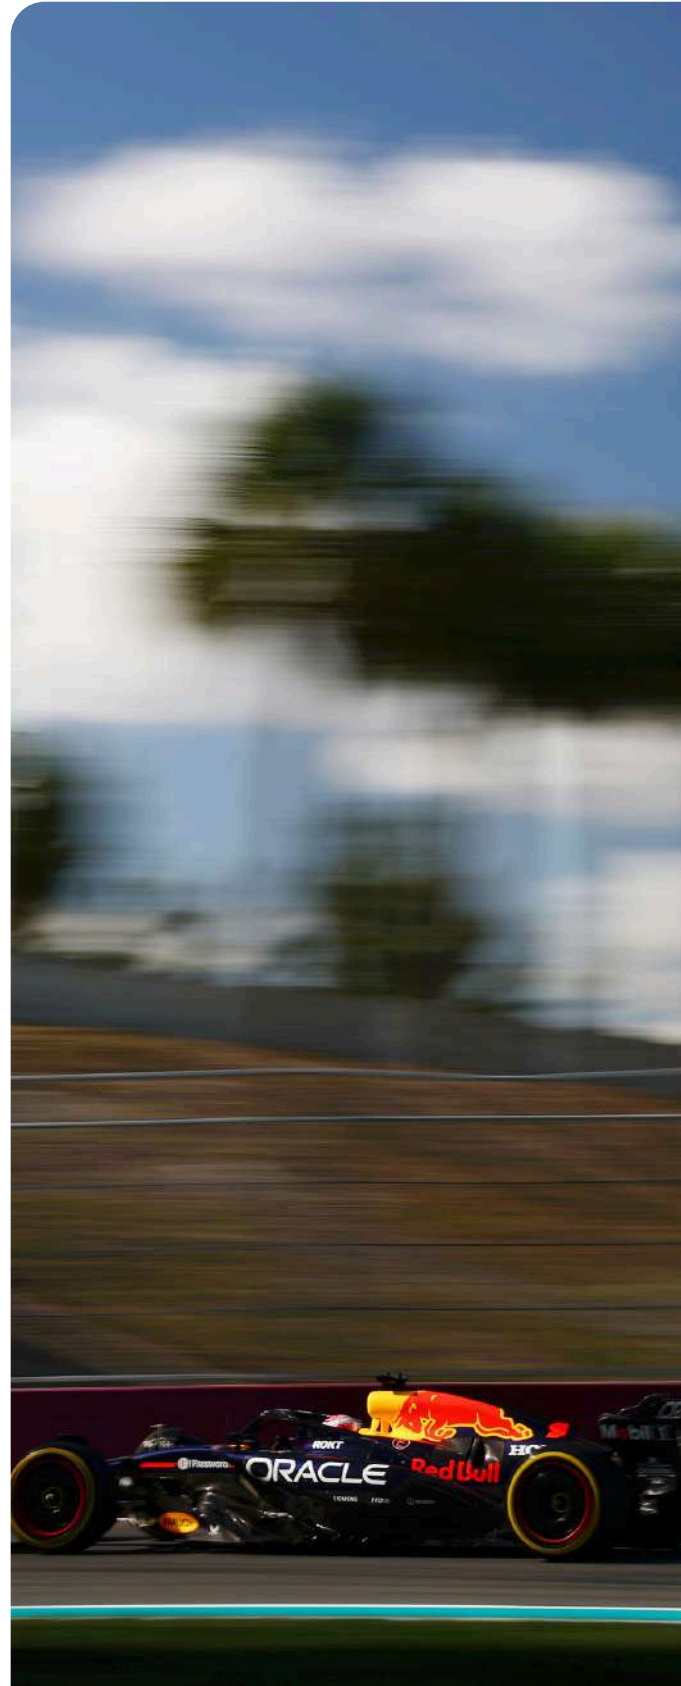

The Miami International Autodrome is located around the Hard Rock Stadium in Miami Gardens, Florida. The track was designed for Formula 1 and will be used for the Miami Grand Prix for the first time in 2022. The circuit features a mix of fast straights and tight corners, making for exciting races. The race has given fans a great experience in recent years and often we see surprises here as Lando Norris took his first win here in 2024.

Overtaking

Miami isn't the easiest circuit for overtaking. However, there are opportunities around Turns 1, 11, and 17, thanks to the long straights leading up to them. Drivers approach these turns at high speed and have to brake hard before the corner, which often leads to overtaking opportunities. Moreover, the strategy here plays a key role as tyre wear can be quite high plus a safety car pit stop takes very little time.

Statistics

The Grand Prix in 2025

The 2025 Formula 1 Miami Grand Prix at the Miami International Autodrome on May 4, 2025 was a standout race in the 2025 season. Oscar Piastri delivered a commanding performance to take victory for McLaren, leading team mate Lando Norris in McLaren 1-2 finish and extending his championship lead. Starting from behind polesitter Max Verstappen, Piastri passed early and, together with Norris, pulled clear of the rest of the field. Mercedes' George Russell completed the podium in third, with Verstappen fourth.

The result cemented McLaren's resurgence in performance after earlier struggles. Miami's fast, 19-turn street layout around Hard Rock Stadium again delivered exciting racing and strategic battles. The weekend also featured a sprint format and weather concerns ahead of the race start. Beyond track action, the event continued to grow as a major fixture on the Formula 1 calendar, with Miami's long-term deal securing its place through 2041.

Statistics

- Winner: Oscar Piastri
- Pole Position: Max Verstappen

How to Get There

Here are the most practical tips on how to get to and from the circuit.

For most Grand Prix weekends, you can easily book transfers through a flight or hotel package from Race Experience. This way, you do not have to worry about transportation to and from the circuit – we are happy to arrange it for you.

If you prefer to go on your own, you can find all the practical information below.

By Public Transport

The most affordable way to reach Miami International Autodrome is by public transportation. Metrobus line 27 connects various Miami neighborhoods to Hard Rock Stadium.

Major transfer stations include Earlington Heights, Brownsville, and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Station. The bus runs daily and takes 24 to 60 minutes, depending on the first and last day. A single ride costs $2.25.

Other

Taxis and rideshare services like Uber or Lyft are readily available in Miami. Keep in mind that during the Miami Grand Prix weekend, the roads are particularly busy, and taxis often charge higher fares.

Furthermore, you won't be dropped off directly at the circuit entrance. There are several pick-up and drop-off points north, south, and east of the circuit. From there, you can walk to the circuit, and shuttles may be available at some points. We recommend checking this yourself for the latest information.

Circuit Tips

Opening Hours

The Miami International Autodrome typically opens well before the first sessions for the 2026 Miami Grand Prix. Gates typically open late in the morning on Fridays, and often from early morning on Saturdays and Sundays. Visitors will then have access to grandstands, fan zones, and other amenities. Please note: the latest information may vary, so always check official opening hours in advance.

Gates

Please note that the entrances can be very busy, as many visitors enter at the same time. This may cause some delays before you can access the circuit. In addition, security checks may be carried out, including bag inspections.

Payment Methods

The 2026 Miami Grand Prix circuit will be almost entirely cashless. Payments can be made with debit and credit cards such as Visa, MasterCard, and Maestro, as well as mobile payment methods like Apple Pay and Google Pay. Cash is generally not accepted.

Information Points

Do you have questions about the circuit? Visit one of the information points around the track. The staff are available to assist you.

In addition, first aid stations are always present at the circuit. In case of a medical emergency or injury, you can report there immediately. These stations are clearly marked on the circuit map.

Circuit Tips

Food & Drinks

The Miami Grand Prix offers a wide range of food that goes well beyond typical stadium options. Around the Hard Rock Stadium campus, visitors can find Cuban dishes, tacos, empanadas, seafood, sushi, burgers, pizza, barbecue, and plant-based meals.

Alcohol is widely available for guests aged 21 and over with valid ID. Choices usually include domestic and craft beer, wine, Champagne or sparkling wine, and cocktails such as margaritas, plus branded bar areas. Premium hospitality sections provide higher-end dining and often include complimentary beer, wine, and sparkling wine.

Outside food and drinks are generally not permitted, and bags are searched at entry. Exceptions typically include medical or dietary needs and small sealed water bottles or empty refillable bottles for on-site water stations.

Formula 1 Fanzone

The Fan Zone during an F1 race is a special area where fans can enjoy extra activities, such as F1 simulators, interactive games, buying merchandise, and enjoying food trucks and live performances. It's a place where visitors can soak up the Formula 1 atmosphere beyond the race itself.

The Fan Zone is inside the Hard Rock Stadium campus, near the lake. See the circuit map below in this guide.

Circuit Tips

Accessibility

Accessibility is a priority at the Miami F1 Grand Prix. Accessible parking spaces in Lot 35 are available for guests with a valid parking pass and ID. Accessible shuttles will take guests to the nearest ticket areas.

Wheelchair-accessible seating is available in the suites, grandstands, and hospitality areas. Accessible restrooms, elevators, sensory spaces, and mobility aids are available on-site for an inclusive experience.

Pit Lane Walk

There will be no public Pit Lane Walk for the Miami Grand Prix, accessible to fans with a regular ticket.

Would you still like to attend a Pit Lane Walk? Book the F1® Experiences Starter or Hero package with us and enjoy an exclusive VIP experience at the circuit.

Merchandise

Merchandise is, of course, always available at the circuit, but prices can be very high. For more choice and better value, consider purchasing your favorite items online in advance, for example via FuelForFans or the official websites of the teams or drivers.

Please note: at some races, vendors outside the circuit also sell merchandise, but be cautious - much of it may be counterfeit or of low quality.

Circuit Tips

Toilet Facilities

Toilet facilities at circuits are often basic and temporary. They are busiest just before Formula 1 sessions, and toilet paper is not always available. We therefore recommend bringing a pack of tissues and some hand sanitizer, and trying to visit the restroom at a quieter time to avoid long lines.

Taking Pictures

Please note that professional cameras are often not allowed at the circuit. A simple camera for personal use is usually fine. Always respect other fans and try to avoid blocking their view of the track while taking photos.

Weather & Climate

The Miami Grand Prix is usually warm and sunny, with warm days and pleasant evenings. There might be an occasional short rain shower, so it's helpful to have a raincoat or poncho handy. Expect around 20 degrees celsius. There's sometimes a light breeze, making it feel nice to be outside.

Bag policy

At the Miami Grand Prix, only clear backpacks (maximum 12 inch " x 6 inch " x 12 inch") and small bags or fanny packs (maximum 4.5 inch" x 6.5 inch") are permitted. Large or opaque bags are prohibited. All bags are subject to security inspection.

Circuit staff reserve the right to add other items to the list. Your cooperation is appreciated to ensure a safe and enjoyable experience for all visitors.

The list of allowed and prohibited items is subject to change and may be updated without prior notice. Race Experience is not responsible for any changes to these rules.
